6. If, in any year, there is no candidate of sufficient merit, no prize is offered.
7. The prize is paid by direct credit to a recipient's nominated New Zealand bank account.
8. A condition of acceptance is that a recipient permits the announcement and publication of acceptance of the award.

Whakamahuki | Background information: Christine Brownlie established this prize in 2009 in memory of her uncle, the late Ewart Hay. Ewart Hay was a graduate in Law from Canterbury College, the forerunner of Te Whare Wānanga o Waitaha | University of Canterbury. Ewart Hay undertook his legal career in Ōtautahi Christchurch and had a distinguished record from the Second World War. He was also an enthusiastic sportsman. Before the Second World War, Ewart Hay worked at the Land Transfer Office and after the war went into private practice, becoming a partner in the firm of Sir Ralph Thompson. Christine Brownlie, as Christine Apperley, was herself a student of Law at Te Whare Wānanga o Waitaha | University of Canterbury, graduating LLM in 1968. She became a lecturer in Te Kaupeka Ture | Faculty of Law and subsequently left to further her career overseas.
